FIFTEEN CENTS

July 2 - hot time in the old town!

How are the people of Antioch going to celebrate the Fourth of July?

Whatever, it will be an anticlimax to Sunday, July 2. Because on that day the celebration and dedication of the Hiram Buttrick sawmill and Gage Brothers park will provide the kind of fun and excitement that only a lively community like Antioch can concoct.

The celebration begins at 1 p.m. with a 40-unit parade that will march north on Main Street and finish at the new park, about a block north of Orchard Plaza shopping center.

JIMMIE QUEDENFELD, CHAIRMAN of the parade, said 15 area fire departments will be taking part. So will the famous Medinah Black Horse Troop, which includes about 16 horses. One of the riders is Jim Bruski of Antioch.

The Black Horse Troop will perform later at the sawmill site.

HONORARY PARADE MARSHALS are Robert J. Wilton, John Horan and Lt. Gov. Dave O'Neal, who is coming here from Springfield to march with the people of Antioch.

O'Neal will be one of the speakers at the dedication of the sawmill and the park. Others will be William E. Brook, chairman of the Antioch Bicentennial Commission which in 1976 conceived the idea of restoring the sawmill, and Michael J. Haley, mayor of Antioch.

Mayor Haley will participate in ribbon cutting ceremonies for Gage Brothers park along with Betty Lu Williams, township librarian who is a descendent of Antioch's early settlers.

At the park, the U.S. Navy Seabees will present the colors and John Olisar's Antioch High School band will play the National Anthem, with Ken Smouse as ANTIOCH'S BICENTENNIAL SAWMILL was sketched by local artist Mary Frances Gibson. Her drawing will appear on the cover of the program for Sunday's dedication ceremonies. "Fran" is an alumnus of the Art Institute of Chicago, formerly taught art at St. Peter's school and has lived in Antioch since 1958. She and her husband, Don, have three children -- Christine, Robert and Karin.

THE SAWMILL NEWS?

Yes, the first and only edition of "The Sawmill News" begins on page 9. It's an eight-page section which you can pull out and save. It was edited by Sue Nasenbeny of the Antioch News staff and we think it's a fitting tribute to the people of Antioch who restored the 1839 Hiram Buttrick sawmill.

Fireworks

Lake Villa's annual Fourth of July fireworks demonstration will be held next Tuesday.

The event, sponsored by the community's Chamber of Commerce, begins at dusk in Lehmann Park, or Cedar Ave. next to the railroad tracks.

JUST DIAL 911, after Oct. 16, and you will get emergency service from the police department, fire department or rescue squad. Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst are sharing the cost of the new telephone system. Above, Garnet Cook (right),

Marijuana found on youth; juvenile admits burglaries

An Antioch teenager was arrested late Saturday night in the industrial area on Anita Street for possessing eight plastic bags of marijuana, police reported.

Patrick Strom, 17, of 385 Maplewood, was arrested by Officer Harold Mason after Mason observed a suspicious car in the area and stopped the vehicle. Mason saw the marijuana on the floor and further searched the car.

The officer found the bags of marijuana in the car and said Strom admitted all of it belonged to him. The driver of the car, a juvenile, was charged with possession of a small amount of marijuana.

Sgt. Charles Watkins and Officer Robert Lange assisted Mason in the arrest.

POLICE ALSO REPORTED two burglaries, of the Dairy Queen and Thompson's Restaurant, and a breaking and entering of Lasco's Florist last weekend. An Antioch juvenile admitted committing the three offenses, police said.

July 2 - we're sorry Hiram can't be here

The investigation will be given to Father Francis Johnson and the responsibility to the St. Stephen's William.

THE "TIME CAPSULE" buried in the past is to be opened in the presence of 100 years from now, will be unveiled in the presence of Becker and members of the time capsule committee: Susan Kopp and Dr. James Kopp.

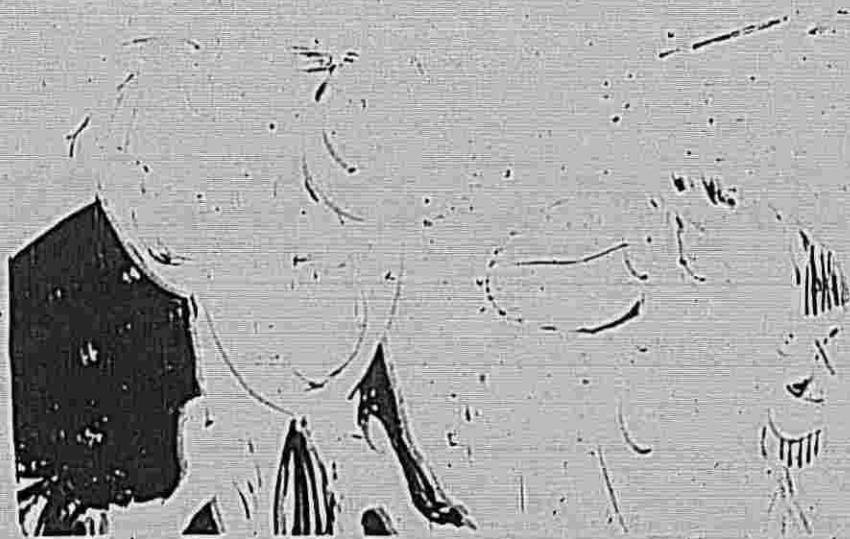

Then the sawmill will be put into work with a log-cutting demonstration in village officials: Walter Shepard and Richard Stone. It will be narrated by Jose Hunter of WERS radio.

From Antioch, there will be tours of the mill, guided by Phyllis McMillen's ladies in historical costumes: Valerie Hunter and Humphrey Sam Karasek, Jeanie Amgren, Angel Maria, Betty Patterson, Sam S. Pierre and Ruth Vane.

ENTERTAINMENT WILL INCLUDE an Antioch Parks and Recreation Department presentation, "The Sawmill," and music by John Jess and his Starliners, a folk band including Bernie Gundy of Antioch.

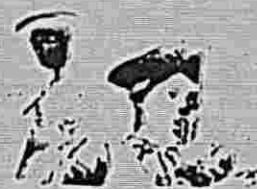

The rescue squad will set up a first aid station and the fire department will be in charge of crowd control. Swimming pool and picnic areas will be open to the public. Since people get hungry and thirsty at celebrations like this, the Lions and Rotary clubs will serve refreshment and ice cream.

I'll be at the time capsule now. Hiram Buttrick and his huge brother will be with me.

Mr. Dejection was not to be going to Antioch to sign the deeds. An objection was to be coming both.

YES, THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR was fought right here in Antioch. Some of you may be old enough to remember it. A British Redcoat bit the dust in this battle at the Little League field. It was in 1776 ... or was it 1976?

the Pfarr Corner

Antioch ... the fountain of youth

By JERRY PFAAR

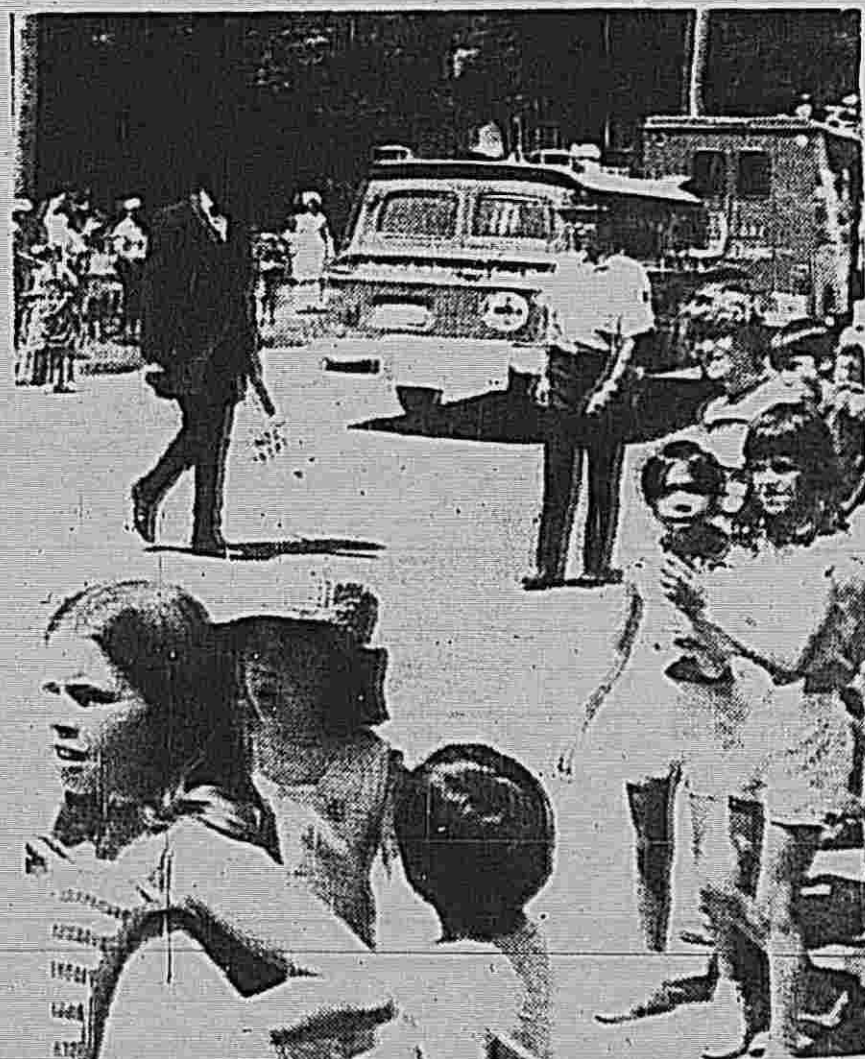

During my long career as a journalist (a journalist is an employed newspaperman I have interviewed almost everyone) I am fresh out of ideas.

Remembered as I suppose I can make almost anything rhyme. I think I'll interview myself. After all, I would have never bothered to interview me. This should be exciting.

Q: How old are you?
A: Two hundred and twenty-four.
Q: You don't look that old.
A: I know. I look about 5.
Q: What do you attribute your longevity to?
A: Clean living. Clean living... Clean living. I can emphasize that enough.
Q: I think you just did. As high as any other source to your amazing lifespan.
A: Yes, definitely. I smoke lots of cigars. A woman is a woman, but a good cigar is a smoke. Of course I've married lots of younger women despite the doctor's warnings, but I've always said, "If she does she dies."
Q: That isn't funny, that's sad. That line is so old.
A: Sure, but so am I, and you have to admire me for having the courage to say such a dumb thing.
Q: I can't believe you have lived over 200 years. Are you sure your memory is accurate?
A: Well, I was here for Paul Robeson's trial. It seems like only a couple of years ago, but I remember when Paul came riding his horse up Orchard Street. Looked a lot like Jack Wells, everyone said, and Jerry Smouse was over there carrying two lanterns in the middle of the belly of the Methodist Church. It was the people the British were coming. Jerry must be pretty old by now.

Q: You must be mistaken. Paul Robeson didn't ride in Antioch.
A: Well, he didn't ride in the Kentucky Derby, but the Revolutionary War was fought here, too. Over at the Little League field. The British Redcoats were exchanging fire with the American Minutemen and hundreds were watching from the bleachers. I was in there taking pictures and old Duke Frasch was yelling from outside the fence. "Hey, Pfarr, pull in your stomach." There were other comedians in the crowd, too. Whenever a Redcoat bit the dust, the spectators cheered. When an American fell, they booed. When they were hit by soldiers, they'd all the time. Apparently they were only in it for the pay. They're shooting the low, sniggered a bit at the bleachers.

Q: Do you have any other exciting memories of all your years in Antioch?
A: Yes, I was here when Age Lincoln was walking the streets. Looked a lot like Ben Wilton, folks said. And I remember when Ex. Hoffman and his crew of "Norsemen" pirates launched Ex's Viking ship to plunder Blarney Island. As Ex put it, "We'll sink their ships, drink their whiskey and let them women." Nick Badamo was shouting, "How come an Italian has to bail no water out of a Norwegian ship?" Oh well. Christopher Columbus had HISTORIANS NEVER mentioned that Abraham Lincoln visited Antioch, but this photograph is proof that he did.

Q: Help them too.
Q: Where are you going now?
A: I have to hurry. It's 1838 and Hiram Buttrick is getting ready to cut the first log at his new sawmill.
Q: One more question. Why did you come to Antioch in the first place?
A: My doctor told me I had only a few years to live, but if I came to Antioch it would seem a lot longer.
Q: This is the worst interview I've ever had.
A: Don't blame me. You just didn't ask the right questions.

New rooms are being built at Oakland school

By LINDA BARNES

Renovations are taking place at Oakland school.

At the June 20 meeting of the Antioch District 34 Grade School board, Jimmie Quedenfeld, school board member, said the board is hoping to complete renovations to the building by the re-opening of school in September.

The board is working hard with its contracted architect to meet this deadline, Quedenfeld said.

In addition to general building improvements, a new music room, library-learning center, offices and workrooms are being added to the school.

PART OF THE RENOVATIONS at Oakland school involve the board's efforts to comply with certain state and federal life-safety requirements. Safety standards which must be met for each school building, some of which are lighting, wiring, exits and safety glass.

Since Channel Lake school does not meet the life-safety requirements, the board is requesting an extension of its life-safety application until the new school is built.

The board presently plans to close Channel Lake school when the new kindergarten through sixth grade school is completed. The projected date for the completion of the new school is September of 1979.

IT WAS ALSO reported at the meeting that the school board is continuing its negotiations with teachers for next year's contracts (1978-79).

The hiring of a new learning disabilities teacher for the Upper Grade school was tabled until the new superintendent, Donald E. Skidmore, takes over the job next week.

A special meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, July 11, at 8 p.m. because the normal meeting date, the first Tuesday of the month, falls on July 4.

Families with high school age youngsters, who have not yet registered for the coming school year, should call the high school at 395-1421, extension 15, and arrange a registration appointment, said Warren Polley, superintendent.

"Late registration may result in limiting selection of electives, so don't delay," Mr. Polley urged.

LURES GIRL TO HOTEL - Police Arrest Carl Dowse and Bertha Rousseau on a Disorderly Charge - the girl was invited to go for a buggy ride and when they reached Waukegan was lured to hotel. Mr. Dowse, although 25 years of age, induced the fourteen year old girl to occupy a room in a hotel with him for the evening. The girl probably not knowing better accepted the invitation.

Paint the sidewalks a delicate shade of green. The comparatively bright and glaring colors of the cement walks, especially when new and white, are working untold harm to the eyes and the oculist is reaping such a harvest as he never dreamed of before. The old wooden walks were of a dull color and did not injure the eyes.

Another stretch of new sidewalk is to be laid on Main Street, from B.F. Van Patten's north to the bridge, in front of the lots owned by D.B. Sabin, A.B. Johnson and Dr. Warriner, and also on the opposite side of the street in front of the property belonging to H. Bock and B.H. Overton. The old walks have been taken up but considerable grading is necessary before the new one can be laid.

The residents of the little village of Fox Lake were somewhat excited on Friday last when the report was spread that the village marshal, Con Marble had been knocked down and five prisoners who were working on the streets were allowed to escape. It was alleged that Frank Gerretson, a chicken fancier, had attacked Mr. Marble. However when sifted down there was not so much to the story as was at first reported.

Taft and Sherman: This is the ticket of the Republican party flung to the breeze Friday as the Republican national convention concluded with the nomination of James S. Sherman of New York for vice-president amid a final roar of tumultuous demonstration.

Jim McMillen, Antioch wrestler, will meet King Kong, the bearded Abissinian wrestler, in a sixty minute time limit one fall match on Friday night, July 1.

The "Lotus Queen," Grass Lake's $200 prize fish, is dead - the victim of a motor boat propeller, according to Frank Novak, deputy investigator for the State Department of Conservation, who found the fish Tuesday floating in Minneola Bay at Fox Lake.

Ollie O'Mara, formerly a major league ball player and for many years a short-stop with the Brooklyn Dodgers, opens the remodeled Brass Ball Tavern tonight with fanfare that is merited by the picturesque history attached to the old tavern and the brass ball that has marked the corner where it stands for many years.

Members of the James family came last Sunday from various points in Illinois and Wisconsin to gather round a common dinner table on the ancestral farm home of the James' just west of Fox River. It was on this farm that Joseph Christopher James settled in 1852, just 22 years after his arrival in America from England.

Bud Holtz, local tavern proprietor, served a duck dinner, Tuesday evening to members of the fire department at their club room in the station. The firemen declared him a congenial host.

The All American Girls Baseball club, which tours the country playing top-notch semi-pro men's teams on an equal basis, visits Simmonis Field here Sunday, June 29, for a game with the Kenosha Chiefs, the city's top amateur club.

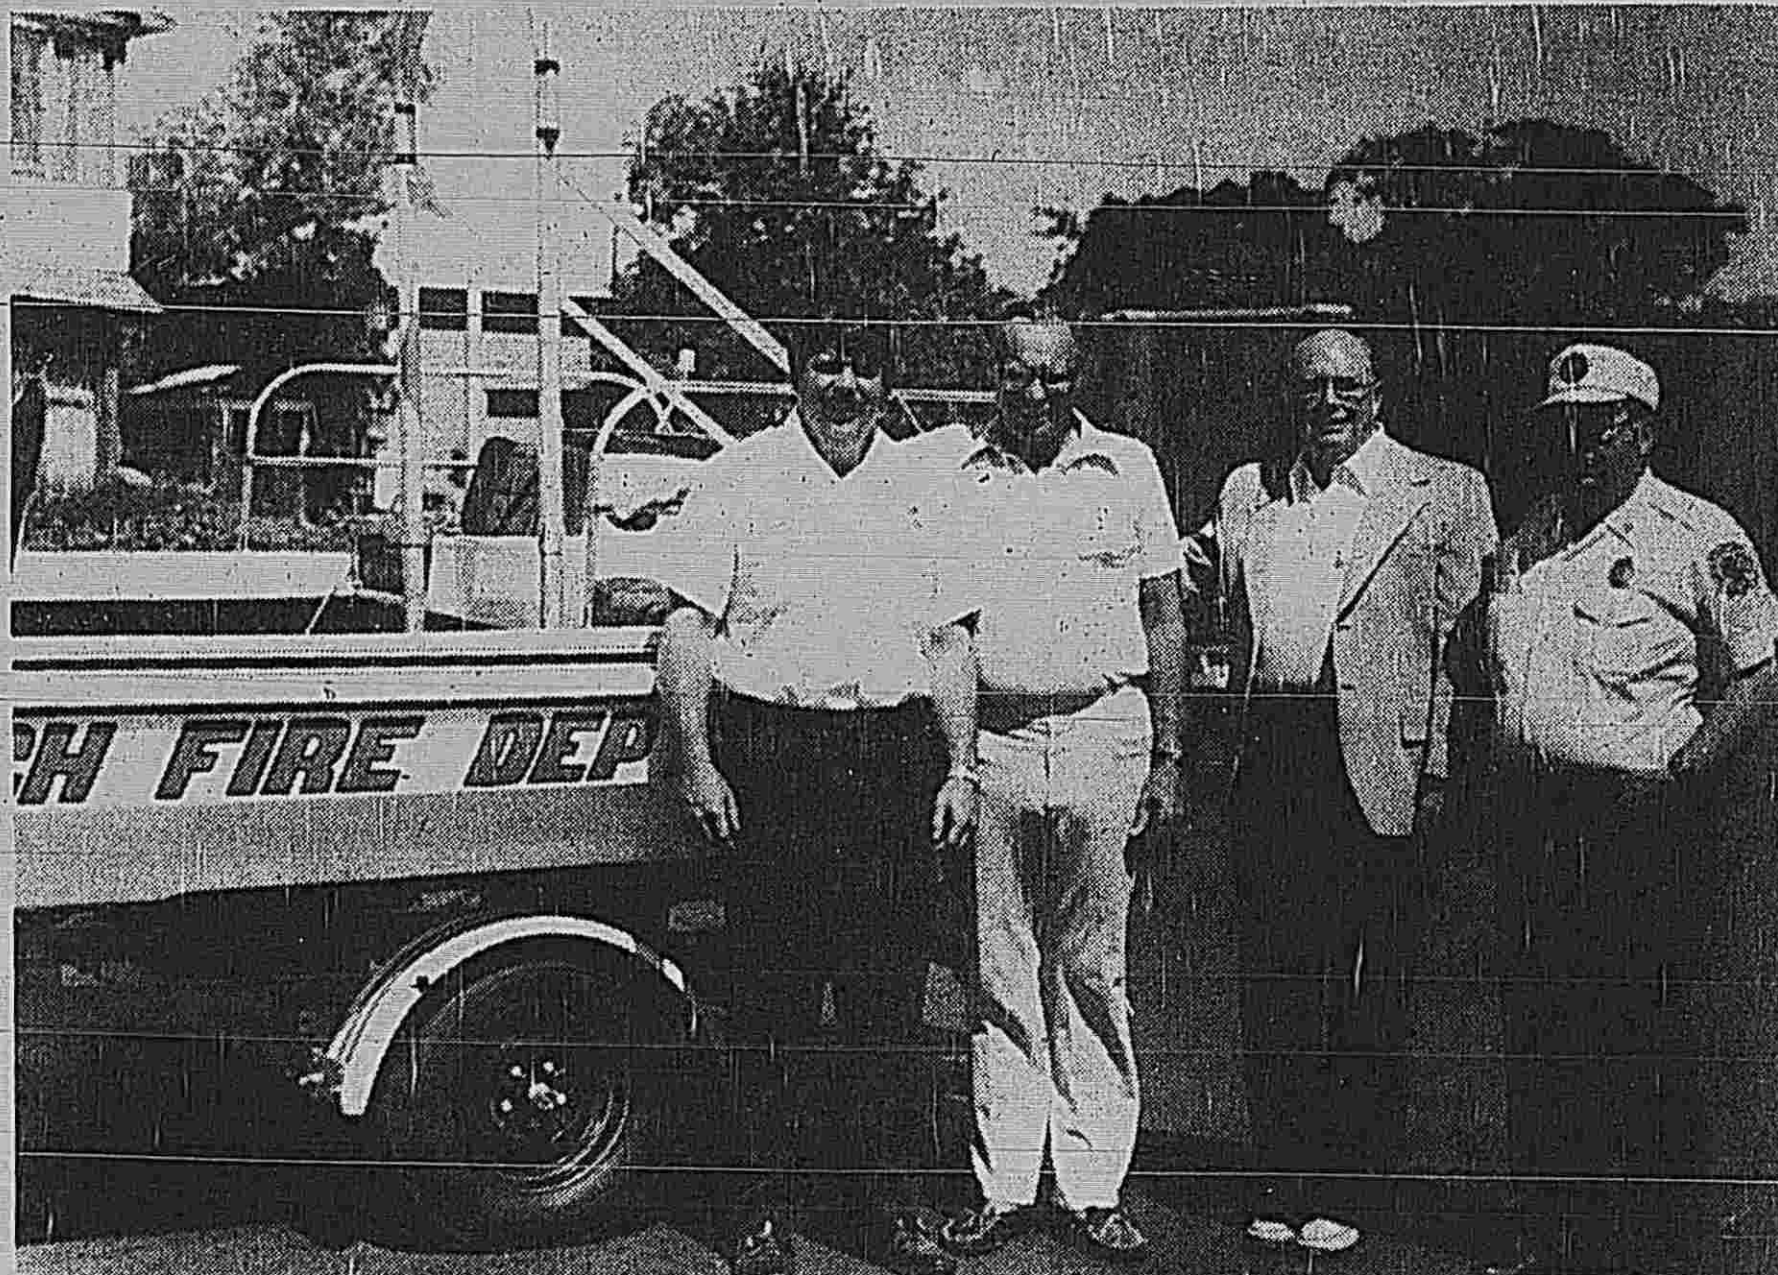

The Antioch fire station will be a popular place Saturday night. It is the occasion of the annual firemen's dance and according to the ticket sales there will be a big attendance. The event always has been popular.

10 YEARS AGO: JUNE 27, 1968

PM&L's "Never Too Late" is giving Antioch an opportunity for a good laugh and a most entertaining evening. Last week's performances were well attended and everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy this comedy about a middle aged wife who suddenly announces to her husband that they are going to have a baby. Delicious punch was served by pretty girls in the lobby on opening night and an art exhibit by Jackie Horton in the theatre lobby was another treat of the evening. "Stork Night" is June 28 when ladies awaiting Mr. Stork will be especially welcome.

Dr. Lloyd Blakeman, Jr. presented red roses to his mother, Mrs. Louise Blakeman during ceremonies honoring her graduating class of 1918, at Chicago-Kent College of Law. The occasion was the annual homecoming luncheon of the college on June 13 at the Palmer House. Also on hand to help Mrs. Blakeman celebrate the 50th year since she received her law degree were her grandchildren, Diane and Lloyd Blakeman III and Dr. Blakeman's wife, Louise.

Excavation for the new Antioch Township library probably won't begin until early fall, according to Mr. Freund, architect.

IN MEMORY OF FIREMEN Gerry Ehrhart and Jerry VanPatten, a new boat for the Antioch Fire Department's underwater recovery team will be launched. Money for the badly-needed boat was donated by the 885 Civic Club and the State

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Let's all pray for good weather on Sunday... the day we celebrate the dedication of the Hiram Buttrick sawmill. Old Hiram will be mighty proud as he looks down on us from that great sawmill in the sky.

One of the highlights for me will be when Ken Smouse sings the National Anthem. He has always been one of my favorite singers and actors, but I never heard him sing the Anthem. Ken can do it, though - he can do anything.

I remember when President Eisenhower and his wife, Mamie, were at a long-forgotten event and, when they started the National Anthem, "Ike" smiled at Mamie and whispered:

"They're playing our song."

BOB WALSH, son of Irv, celebrates his birthday Sunday - but really, Bob, that isn't why we're dedicating the sawmill on that day.

Homer LaPlant's birthday is July 4 - and we always celebrate along with him. Maybe that's one reason it's a national holiday.

July 4 also is the wedding anniversary of our friends Pete and Glenda Tomaschik.

IT WAS JUST this time a year ago when McDonald's restaurant opened on Orchard Street. It seems as if McDonald's has been here longer than that - but maybe it's just because I've devoured as many cheeseburgers as the average person eats in 10 years.

By the way, we want to wish Glen Amundsen a happy birthday this Friday, June 30. Glen is one of our favorite people, just like cheeseburgers is one of our favorite foods.

A YEAR AGO residents of Antioch were asked to limit the sprinkling of their lawns to conserve the village water supply. Lately, we've had a lot of help from the heavens as far as sprinkling is concerned - and wasn't that some storm Sunday morning?

Where were you when the lights went out? Not in Lindenhurst, I hope - that village was hit so hard the sewers were backing up.

MY FRIEND, BOB, is getting quite bald - so the other day a fellow walks up to him and says:

"I have a joke that'll knock the hair right off your head - whoops, I see, you've heard it already."

SURE ENJOYED hearing from Paul and Dortha Chase, who have moved to Salt Lake City, Utah.

"Greetings to all our dear Antioch friends," they wrote. "The weather has been ideal so far, between 80 and 90 with low humidity. Most everyone has lovely roses and green grass - both need lots of water however. Tomorrow we get our phone and can put that to good use."

But they'll be making some long distance calls to Antioch.

PROUD GRANDPARENTS are Warren and Ramona Sheehan of Lake Villa - their daughter, Linda, had a little boy on June 12. Well, Justin Michael isn't so little - he weighed in at 8 lbs., 12 oz. Linda is Mrs. Michael Stried of Winthrop Harbor. The paternal grandparents are Grace and Robert Stried of Zion. Grandma Sheehan tells us that 6-year-old Peter Stried is really enjoying his new brother.

WATCH FOR MARILYN Sterbenz's Las Vegas TV show, "Dealer's Choice," to be aired on Channel 7 News this Friday at 6 p.m.

Marilyn won three prizes on the show about four years ago; a car, motorcycle and airplane, but she never received the plane. She wrote to Action 7 and voiced her complaint, and the TV cameras came to Antioch to interview her last week. Her story will be on TV Friday, so be sure to watch!

Sawmill more than beautiful

By SUE NASENBENY

Antioch's Hiram Buttrick Sawmill in Gage Brothers Park is more than an ingenious and beautiful work of art in its rustic setting, with a huge waterwheel that powers a timber-cutting saw.

It's the work of over 1,000 people from Antioch, a community project that brought together labor, talent and resources for the past two years.

"The people of the village made the sawmill possible," Walt Shepard, project coordinator, said. "Roughly 350 individuals came down and physically gave their labor (on consecutive weekends) and over 1,000 people participated by donating materials and funds to the project."

FROM A DISTANCE, an observer can witness a wooden structure atop a stone base connected to waterwheel ... 18 feet in diameter and four feet wide. It weighs about three tons.

The wheel scoops water from Sequoit Creek, which is fed by the overflow from Little Silver and Loon lakes. When the wheel needs to gain speed a gate is opened near it. That lets more water in and when supervisors want to stop the wheel they close the gate, which cuts off water flow.

THE SETTING IS breathtaking; something like a return to the 1830's when Buttrick first constructed the sawmill that gave Antioch its start. A wooden fence surrounds it and the pond's edges are lined with smooth stones, each set in place by hand.

In the north section of the park, which encompasses about one and one-half acres (the sawmill and pond cover the other half), a paved path circles a small arboretum composed of more than 80 trees of all types, donated by residents.

But the amazing part of the whole production lies within the wooden building. That is where people have pooled their resources and have built a saw which can cut wood, powered by the paddle wheel, probably the only one of its kind in Illinois, Shepard said.

The process starts in the basement of the sawmill where two huge pulleys, activated by the water-force, move a baler which causes the saw upstairs to go up and down. The primary pulley is 30 inches wide and was donated from people in Canada, Shepard said. The back pulley is 14 inches wide and was donated from Wisconsin, he added.

The water-wheel is estimated to have 15 horsepower, Shepard said, and the saw can go up and down from six to eight times per minute.

UPSTAIRS, THE RIP-BLADE used to cut logs was renovated from an old ice-cutting blade, Shepard said. The timber is set between two boards, pins are locked down to secure it and the saw goes to work.

A HISTORICAL SITE will be dedicated July 2 in Gages Brothers Park when the public will be invited to visit the Hiram Buttrick Sawmill, a replica of the original used to cut timber in the 1830s. The saw is powered by the waterwheel and can saw a log as big as 12 feet long and 14 inches in diameter.

Marilyn's brainstorm turns into village project

By SUE NASENBENY

About five years ago Marilyn Sterbenz, village clerk, said she was given the idea to have a sawmill constructed in Antioch.

She said she was thinking in terms of maybe a small replica of the original built by Hiram Buttrick in 1839 on Sequoit Creek, never dreaming that the project would evolve into the beautiful historical site it is today.

The brainstorm began at a somber occasion, the funeral of former village clerk Clarence Shultis in 1973. Marilyn said she was cornered by Dr. George Jensen, a man now passed away who was very instrumental in many community projects, and he told her that on the creek a sawmill had been constructed over a century ago. It gave Antioch its start, "Doc" Jensen said.

HE SAID HE WAS sure some of the timbers used in the original sawmill were still in the creek and that perhaps something should be done to commemorate the site. Jensen apparently was motivated by the revelation that many of Antioch's long-time residents would not be here that much longer and a community historical project should get underway soon.

Marilyn, who is a member of the Chain O'Lakes Historical Society, sent Tod Maplethorpe, fire chief, down to the creek to find out if some of the old timbers were really still there.

Maplethorpe found some of the original timbers at the site, a bit east of where the sawmill now stands.

Maplethorpe said the original settlers would bring logs to the sawmill, dump them in the mill pond and they would be pulled through the saw. This was what he was told by his mother, Mary, who learned it from Antioch old-timers a long time ago.

WHEN MARILYN LEARNED that the old timbers were still near the site, she suggested that a replica be made near the original location, maybe a sign or a plaque or miniature model of the old sawmill.

But plans started rolling and soon it became the Bicentennial Sawmill project and actual restoration of the historical site began near the end of 1976.

Marilyn wrote to the Illinois Bicentennial Commission for a grant to begin the project and, after some red tape, finally received $1,000 from Horizons '76 for the site's restoration and commemoration.

Walter Shepard, superintendent of public works, became the project director.

Three of the purposes of the restoration, as presented to the Horizons '76 committee, were as follows:

- To construct a replica and commemorate a site on Sequoit Creek, within the village limits, where the first permanent settlers, D.B. and Thomas Q. Gage, established government claims in 1836 and built a saw and grain mill in 1839.

- To provide and preserve for area residents a tangible reminder of the history of their community.

- All community organizations will share in the responsibility of the planning and implementation of this Historical Site Restoration; some for research information, others for publicity and funding and the youthful organizations will be called upon to give of their time and skills during the actual construction of the mill.

parts of the community became members of the Antioch Bicentennial commission in 1975, responsible for organizing and obtaining funds for the project.

They included William E. Brook, Marilyn Sterbenz, William Seemann, Ray Lorenz, Hank Apostol, Terry Folbrink, Clifton Houghton, Gus Costoff, Albert Bucar, James Kopriva and Robert Wilton, who was mayor at the time.

Marilyn said outside of the $1,000 donation from the bicentennial commission, most of the labor and material for the MIRRORED IN THE POND, the sawmill is perfectly reflected with the night lights that surround it.

Only one of its kind in the state

A lot of people suspected that the Hiram Buttrick Sawmill in Antioch was the only one of its kind in the state. But nobody could say for sure.

Then Bill Brook, president of the State Bank and a member of the Bicentennial Commission responsible for organizing the sawmill project, wrote to the Illinois State Historical Library to clear up matters once and for all.

HE RECEIVED a reply last week which confirmed the community's belief.

The letter stated that the historical library staff members had looked through their records and had contacted the Dept. of Conservation, part of the state park system.

THEY DISCOVERED that "no one knows of an operating, water powered sawmill in Illinois" other than the one to be dedicated in Antioch. A saw and grist mill in New Salem, Ill., has been restored but it is not operating, the library reported.

Now Antioch residents can rest assured that they have quite a unique feature in an operating sawmill. Not brag, just fact.

Diplomacy is the art of telling your friends that they have open minds instead of holes in their heads.

Marilyn's brainstorm

construction were donated by community organizations and individuals.

Murrill and Alice Cunningham donated the land on which the pond is located and the mill was built on land belonging to the village. Murrill was mayor of Antioch from 1957 to 1965.

THE ROTARY CLUB of Antioch donated $3,000 to the construction and the Antioch Lions Club gave $2,000. Over $15,000 was given by other organizations and individuals. The village added another $10,000 with the township contributing $5,000. A list of most of the contributors appears on a large sign outside the village hall.

Construction began more than two years ago and volunteers have since diligently worked weekends on the project.

When asked what she thought was the total worth of the sawmill, Marilyn replied, "It's hard to put a dollar value on it. The village has it insured for $50,000 but it's worth as a beautiful historical site is immeasurable. It's priceless to me."

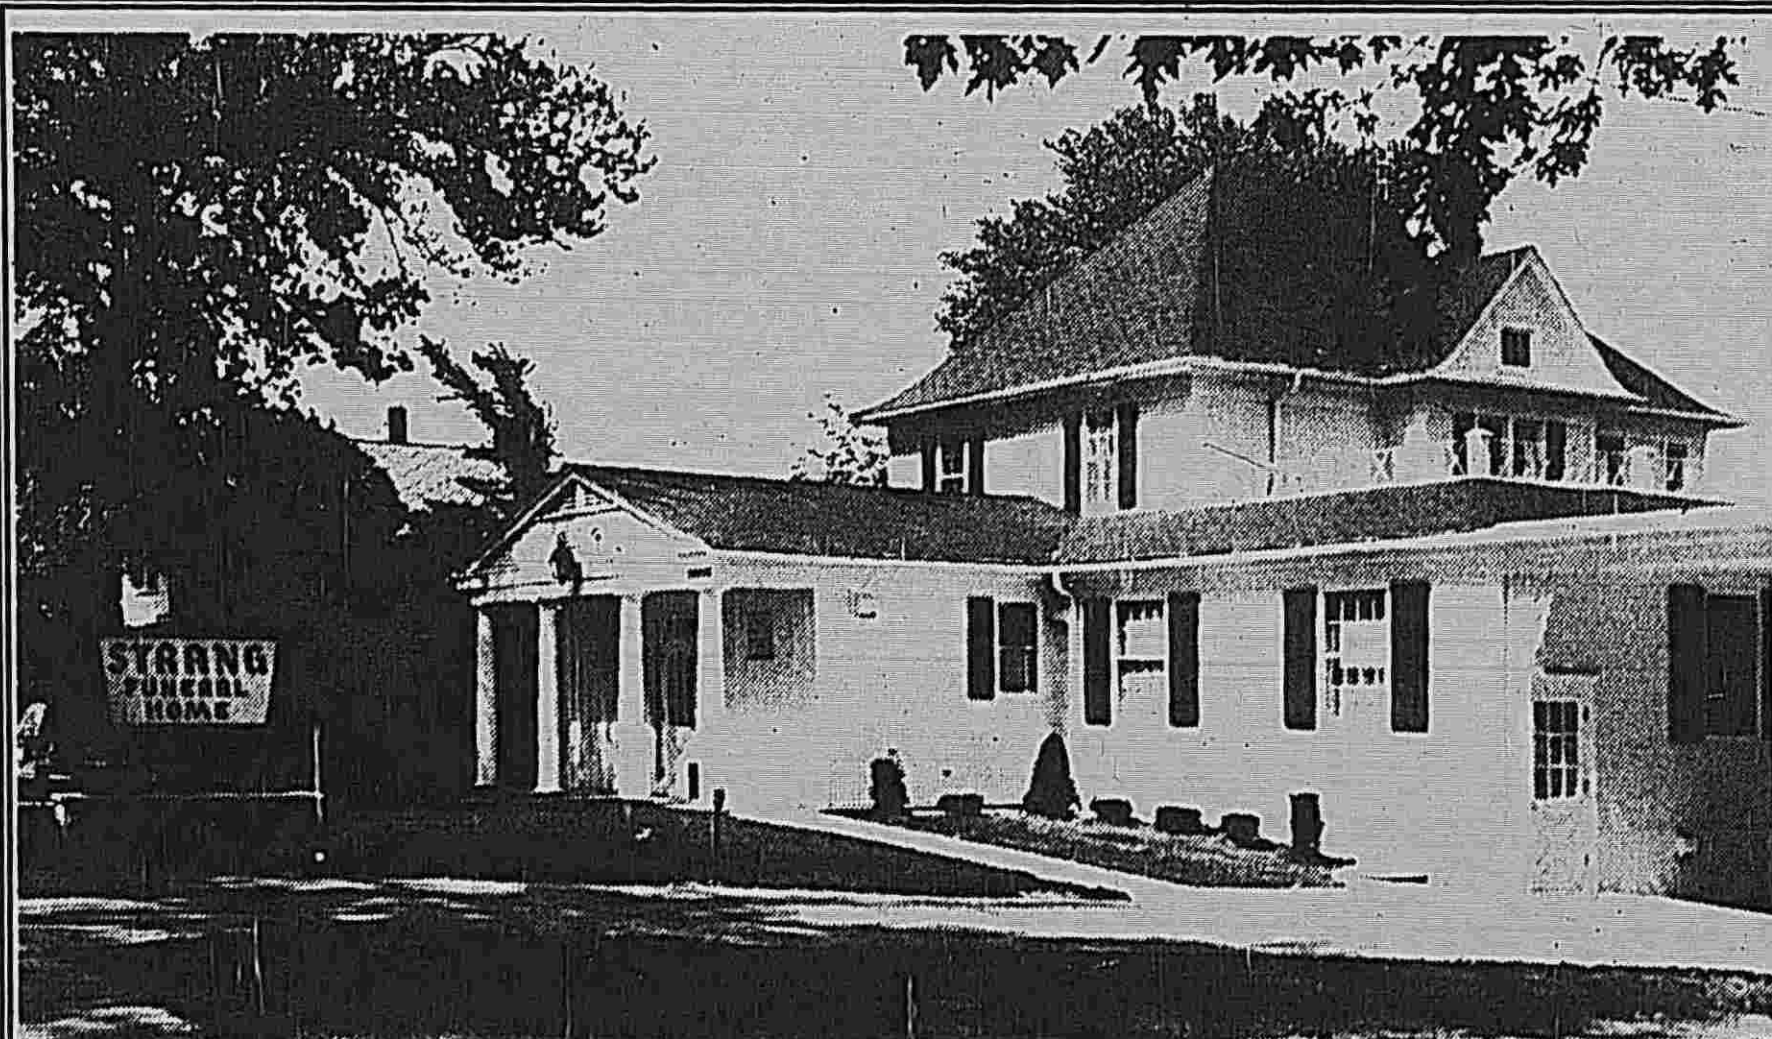

The commission set a target date for the completion of the project last fall and the sawmill will be officially dedicated Sunday, July 2. Festivities begin with a parade at 1 p.m. It starts at the high school and ends at the sawmill in Gage Brothers Park. Activities include an equestrian demonstration, a short play on the history of Antioch and several other ceremonies.

Marilyn will be there, and the project she envisioned as a small token to commemorate Antioch's history will be dedicated as a permanent historical site, complete with a large waterwheel and a sawmill that can actually cut wood.

Sawmill adds more than beauty to village

The regular blade the sawmill will use has been specially ordered from Massachusetts and will cut better than the present one, he added. It will cut logs 12 feet long and up to 14 inches in diameter.

The logs to be used have been donated from different places in Antioch, Shepard said.

The sawmill is a close replica of the original and Shepard, who is also Antioch's superintendent of public works, designed it with help from others. Building Commissioner Dick Stroner helped to coordinate the whole operation.

"He was the craftsman, the guy who knew how to put it together," Shepard said.

THE TWO WERE THERE supervising and constructing the sawmill on consecutive weekends for over two years. "I don't think we missed three or four at the most," Shepard added. "But we had a super amount of help."

Those who participated in construction first had to take down an old Trevor barn that belonged to Joe Patrovsky, and save the timber for the structure.

A foundation was dug, concrete was poured and a rough structure was up in the first summer in 1976. In the winter of 1976-77 the waterwheel was built and high school shop classes made the saw frame and saw tracks.

The following spring the creek was cleaned and the pond was dug out some more. In the summer a dam was constructed, stone was placed on the sides and finishing parts were made on the inside of the building, including the roof.

LAST WINTER barn beams were placed on the inside and in the spring workers completed digging out the pond. Doors were built for the cabin, a fence was put up around the park, it was sodded, trees were planted and sidewalks laid.

Altogether, Shepard estimated that the sawmill park is worth about $200,000, what it would have cost to build without donations.

"We have a lot of godfathers helping us out," he said. "We couldn't have done this without community support. People from six years old to 70 were here to work and that's a great thing. The community really got behind this."

About $26,000 was spent on the sawmill's construction, he said, with donations coming from organizations, clubs, individuals, the village and the township. Most of the material was donated.

SHEPARD SAID HE HAS not decided yet how the park will be operated and what hours it will be open to the public, but this Sunday it will be officially dedicated.

Visitors will be able to witness logs being sawed into planks, but at a slower rate than normal, in order to conserve water. A trial run of the saw last Friday helped organizers work out some of the mechanical bugs.

THE FIRST LOG to be sawed will be used in the dedication ceremonies, although a few feet were taken off in trial runs last week and donated as souvenirs to the Chain O'Lakes Historical Society and the library.

A crew of workers spent last weekend preparing for the sawmill's dedication, which will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday with a parade, a short play on Antioch's history, an equestrian show and a demonstration of how the sawmill operates.

And the replica of the early sawmill with its unique characteristics will not be the only thing citizens will turn out to honor.

The dedication and cooperation of a whole community will be praised as well.

Who were Gage brothers, Buttrick?

(Editor's Note: The following story is based on information from Michael D. Teeley, grade school district 34's environmental project director and a pamphlet, "Environmental Inventories," published by the district.)

The residents of Antioch have pooled their resources for the past two years and have built a sawmill similar to the one used in 1839 by Hiram Buttrick for cutting logs.

They named the sawmill after Hiram and the park that surrounds it after two early settlers, the Gage brothers. But who were these men?

IN THE LATE summer of 1836, Darius and Thomas Gage became the first settlers to build cabins in the area of Antioch township. The land they claimed was, on a small creek they named Sequoit, an Indian word meaning winding.

They journeyed here after the Pottawatomie Indians signed the Grand Treaty in 1833 which deeded all lands in the state of Illinois to the government. The treaty was ratified by Congress in 1834.

Soon after, in 1835, a few dozen white settlers built homes in what is now Lake County. The Gage brothers arrived at their location by following old Indian paths leading toward Lake Michigan and had turned north-west on a trail leading toward Mukwonago, Wis.

WHEN THEY arrived in the area around Loon Lake they liked what they saw and decided to explore the surrounding areas, finally settling on Sequoit Creek.

Another settler, Thomas Warner, also chose a home-site near Loon Lake in 1836 and built a temporary shelter until he could build a log cabin the next year. He built a home on Loon Lake shortly afterward, making the first permanent claims to government land in the township.

However, none of the settlers stayed through the winter in 1836. When they returned the following summer, they were joined by more settlers.

The town was officially named Antioch by a vote which included members of the Christian Church called Campbellites.

In 1839, a sawmill was built on Sequoit Creek by another early pioneer, Hiram Buttrick. John Elliot built a steam grist mill in 1856 and the two became the nucleus for the community built on Sequoit Creek.

High School journalists schedule 2 car washes

By JAMIE VASEK

Thirteen student journalists from Antioch High School will be holding two Saturday car washes, July 1 and July 8, to finance their trip to the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater for a one-week journalism camp.

The July 1 car wash, this Saturday, will be at the Phillips 66 station on the corner of Main and Orchard streets and the July 8 car wash will be at the Texaco station in Orchard Plaza. Both will start at 9 a.m. and continue until 5 p.m. The cost will be $1.50 for cars and $2 for vans and trucks.

ANY MONEY, either earned or donated, will be evenly distributed among the 13 students.

The students' advisor, Mike Gordy, said he feels the camp will greatly improve the quality of next year's newspaper. Although there is very little experience on the staff, Mr. Gordy has a very optimistic outlook for next year's school newspaper. All of the students entering the class have maintained no lower than a B average in English during previous years.

He feels the students will be able to catch on quickly and hopes they will be able to put together an award winning paper by the end of the year.

"THE CLASS HAS so much potential. We have such a select group of people all of whom seem to be willing to put forth the effort to upgrade the paper," he said.

Mr. Gordy is extremely pleased with the number of students who have given up a week of their summer to attend camp.

The students working at the car wash and attending the journalism camp are Mary Mattson, Jay Harreld, Joy Gossman, Andy Dugenske, Paul Dugenske, Debbie Duha, Tom Connelly, Jamie Vasek, Kathy Walsh, Kurt Kapischke, Karen Anderson, Zachary Bauer and Pete Jung.

Pfarr down the fairway

By JERRY PFARR

As president of the Antioch chapter of the Arnold Palmer fan club, I must point out that our hero tied for eighth in the Canadian Open Sunday by shooting a 68 in the final round.

It was Arnie's best finish in an American tournament in more than a year and his financial reward, $5,800, was more than the $1,000 or so he usually earns when he places 20th or 25th.

Our club is waiting for Arnold to win again and those of us (who also still believe in the Chicago Cubs) figure one of these weeks he will put four good rounds together. Our leader doesn't need the money, but he and his entire army need the victory.

ON THE EXTREMELY tough Canadian course, Palmer finished 72 holes only four strokes behind winner Bruce Lietzke. Arnie beat Jack Nicklaus by two strokes and Gary Player by seven. So there!

Speaking of golf's legends, Ben Hogan recently matched his age by shooting a 64 at Shady Oaks Country Club in Ford Worth, Tex. He played from the back tees, a total of 6,975 yards.

Hogan refuses to play in the senior tournaments that now attract the likes of Sam Snead, Tommy Bolt and Julius Boros... because Hogan wants to be remembered as the golfer he was 25 years ago.

FRANK S. HANLEY of Antioch enjoyed playing golf last Friday. On the 8th hole at Hickory Knoll, he smacked his tee shot into the cup for a hole-in-one.

Swimmers dive into challenging season

By CAROL BERRY

The Antioch swim team, sponsored by the State Bank, started its season by winning two of the first three meets.

The "B" squad defeated both the Fox Point and the Cary Park District "B" teams by scores of 175-171 and 169-138.

The "A" squad of Antioch was defeated by an extremely tough Fox Point "A" team 238-216.

LEADING THE "B" TEAM with three or more first places for the two meets were Beth Haley, Carolyn Stanley, Laura Eckert, Katie Shepard, Mitch Kruczak, Kit Hoover, Bret Scheidan, Betsy Smith and Phil Janorek.

Scoring four firsts for the "A" team was Brian Wogsland, while triple winners were Ted Bessette, Bob Sutton, Shelley Volling, Sue Harrison and Kaky Kelly.

In addition to these firsts were eleven victories made by the combined efforts of Bryan White, Judy Houghton, John Bellucci, Karen Shepard, John Ludwig, Derek Wogsland, Melissa Peterson and Julie Konchan.

HEAD COACH MARTY BERRY said, "I was very pleased with the teams' performances with only one week of practice."

"With three of their 16 meets completed, the Antioch swimmers are well on their way in a difficult and challenging season," the coach added.

Babe Ruth leaders boost record to 6-2

The Advertiser won two more games in Antioch's Babe Ruth baseball league last week to boost its record to 6-2. Manager Dick Witt's team outslugged the State Bank 11-5 and then scored an 8-1 victory over the Limerick. The Limerick now has a 4-2 record.

Roy Raven pitched a five-hitter against the State Bank while Cary Scharlau and Chuck Duha each tagged the losers' pitching for two basehits. Witt praised the defense for helping Raven pitch himself out of trouble spots.

Phil Herrera showed excellent control in holding the Limerick to one run. Dean Haviland contributed a two-run single as his team moved into first place in its division.

Antioch Drugs edged the State Bank 4-3 but losing manager John McEvoy said his team played one of its best games. He said Mike Evans made the play of the game, catching a fly ball in deep left-center. Tom Poulos pitched a very good game, McEvoy added.

Antioch golfers invited to play in tournament

A few thousand dollars in prizes await the top players in a new golf tournament, the Bristol Oaks Open, to be played July 8-9.

The deadline for entries is this Saturday, July 1. Bristol Oaks' pro, Leroy Leach, said blanks are available at the course or can be phoned to him at (414) 857-2304.

The Saturday, July 8, 18-hole event will have an "A flight" for golfers with handicaps of 10 or higher and a "B" flight for handicaps of 15 or over. Verification of handicap is needed, Leach said, and the prize list should range from $1,500 to $2,000 if 100 players enter. The fee is $25.

A 36-hole tournament on Sunday, July 9, is for professionals and championship flight amateur players. The entry fee is $35 and first prize will be $500 for the top pro and $350 in merchandise for the best amateur.

Local wrestlers qualify for state tourney

Marvin Gibson and Rich Packert have qualified for the Illinois Wrestling Federation freestyle championships to be held at Bolingbrook High School on July 8.

Marvin and Rich won their weights at the district qualifying tournament last Saturday at Buffalo Grove.

The state freestyle championship is the culmination of spring and summer competition in the international styles of wrestling in Illinois.

The U.S. Wrestling Federation is the parent organization of the Illinois federation which fosters competition in the international styles and prepares wrestlers for world and Olympic competition.

FREESTYLE AND GRECO-ROMAN wrestling are wrestled world-wide while the style common to our high schools and colleges is wrestled only in the United States.

The top qualifiers from the Illinois state championships qualify for the USWF national championships at the University of Iowa July 25-29.

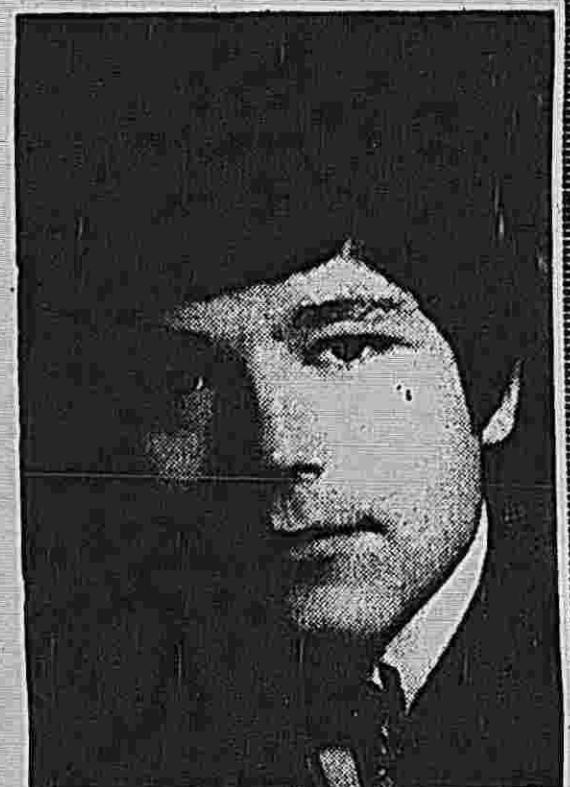

Marvin Gibson dominated the 132 lb. weight class last Saturday, winning seven matches, six by pins and a 9-5 win over Ricky Alfano of Waukegan. Among Marvin's victims by pin was Paul Preissing of Arlington, a fourth place winner in this year's state high school tournament who had beaten Marvin last year in this meet. Preissing was pinned by Marvin in one minute and 15 seconds.

RICH PACKERT, ANTIOCH senior heavyweight, won five matches and the heavyweight crown with three pins and a pair of decisions. Rich is planning on wrestling next year at the College of Lake County.

Marvin and Rich will be joined at the state freestyle tournament by Jon Gibson who qualified previously and is on an out-of-state cultural exchange wrestling program in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland.

"The cultural exchange is also sponsored by the Illinois Wrestling Federation and provides an opportunity for Illinois wrestlers to travel and wrestle in various parts of the country," said Ted DeRousse, coach of the Antioch wrestlers.

Lt. Tom Fisher said the burglary at the Dairy Queen was reported last Thursday when between $45 and $50 was taken from a cash register.

On Saturday morning, police received a call that a suspicious person was outside the First National Bank of Antioch. Officer Ron Allen questioned the juvenile and found that he was waiting for the bank to open and had $40 in change in a brown paper bag.

Allen took the juvenile to the police station where Lt. Fisher questioned him. The juvenile admitted to Fisher that he had broken into Lasco's Florist earlier that morning but had taken nothing.

HOWEVER, HE SAID he had burglarized Thompson's Restaurant earlier that morning and had taken about $60. He added that the money Allen found on him had been taken from Thompson's, but he spent some of it on breakfast, police said.

Upon further investigation, Fisher found that the juvenile also had burglarized the Dairy Queen on Thursday.

Police found that the juvenile had been staying at the Sunset Motel and used the money from the Dairy Queen burglary for food and rent.

He had reportedly left home by a mutual agreement with his parents. The boy was placed in the Lake County Youth Home to await a hearing on a delinquency petition.

ALSO, A 20-YEAR-OLD MAN from Trevor, Jacob James Velino, was charged with criminal damage to property, reckless driving and running a stop sign Saturday night.

Officer Ron Allen said he observed a vehicle coming out of the A&P parking lot and turn north on Hillside and Orchard, where the officer thought the car ran a stop sign. Allen followed the car and it then ran a stop sign on First and Hillside, he said.

Allen pursued and Velino's vehicle gained speed, he said. Velino's auto then drove across the lawn at 563 Hillside Ave. Police gave chase and Velino was finally stopped at Trevor Road.

Velino's court date is set for July 27.

Letter to the Editor

Suggests youth center for 14 to 19-year-olds

To the Editor:

Antioch is a growing community. We can all see the changes that are being made. Soon we will even see a new fire department building. Which brings us to the question, what will be done with the old one?

Why not make it a youth center? It seems there is a lot of recreation for our Senior Citizens and also for the young children. But, what about the ages 14 to 19? Where do they have to go that is part of a village function?

I'm sure many parents would be willing to volunteer some time on this project. To have a weekly Friday night or Saturday night disco would allow them someplace to get together.

I hear a lot of people complaining about them walking around town or hanging around businesses ...

Come on, Antioch ... teens are people too! Let's help them be a part of our community.
